

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Before adding myself to the Indiana no-call list, my family had gotten to the point where we wouldn't even answer the phone, but we can now answer it and know that it most likely won't be a harassing telemarketer. For the peace of my family and everyone in Indiana, please do not force this law to be changed. Thank you!